THE HON. ALBINIA DUE

Study Nursing and Household Science Here.

Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company.) Lord Midleton's sister, the Hon. Albinia Brodrick (who has been wrongly described in the cable dispatches as "Lady" Brodboard the Baltic, to take up the study of nursing and of household administra-Hon in the Teacners College of Columbia University under the direction of Professor Adelaide Nutting. An elderly maiden-she is over fifty-and far from rich she some time ago took up nursing as a profession, obtained a diploma as such and has lately been attached to the staff of the leading hospital in County Kerry. She is now bent on establishing a hospital of her own at Ballincoona, in the same county, where she has been subsisting on five shillings a week in order to save money for the purpose. She purview shall not only care for the sick, but teach the peasantry, and especially its women, the ethics of sanitation and of the tare of the household, and it is in order to be able to direct this species of tuition more efficiently that she purposes to study for some time at Columbia University unfer Professor Nutting, at the same time collecting money wherever possible for the projected institution.

All her sisters are serious minded like herself. One of them is the wife of the Bishop of Glasgow. Her brother, Lord Midleton, will be better remembered in this country as William St. John Brodrick, who was Secretary of State for War during the greater part of the Boer campaign, and as such the object of much criticism. Afterward he became Secretary of State for India, where he was again Named for having failed to smooth over the quarrel between Lord Kitchener and Lord Curzon and with having allowed ft to develop to such an extent as to entail the resignation by Lord Curson of the great office of Viceroy of India. Curron and Midleton were classmates at Eten and the most intimate of friends until this episode, since which they do not

Kaiser and Tirpitz at Odds.

Inasmuch as Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, the Secretary of State of the German navy, is known from one end of Europe to the other as the principal obstacle in the way of any friendly understanding with Great Britain, the news that very serious differences have arisen between himself and the Emperor, involving his retirement from office at an early date, will be halled with satisfaction by countries.

The existence of the quarrel, which has been brewing for some time, first became apparent at Essen, on the occasion of the festivities in connection with the centerary of the foundation of the great house of Krupp, at which both the Emperor and Tirpitz were present. The Kaiser, referring to the fact that Great Britain is now arming her battleships with 34.8-centi-metre guns, inquired of Herr Krupp von Bohlen whether the latter could not construct 35-centimetre guns for the German On receiving an affirmative reply from Krupp, the Emperor intimated his determination to have his battleships equipped therewith, so as to give the vessels an even still longer and more powerful range than the British men-of-war, Tirpitz, ordinarily a very tactful man, seems to have lost his head, for he at once raised the most vigorous objection to any such heavy ordnance, on the ground not only of the terrible expense, the fact that any su periority of range would be lost by fog or sea mist. He insisted, and still insists, that in the next great naval battle it will not be the 34 or 35 centimetre guns, but those of smaller range and weightwhat might be described as the medium guns-that will decide the victory. At present the heaviest gun in the German havy is a 30-centimetre gun, and Tirpitz has taken so strong a stand against anything heavier, in direct opposition to the Emperor, that it is difficult to see how he can remain in office. Nor is this all. Tirpitz urges that the money which the Emperor wishes to waste (slc) on heavy guns should be do voted to the building of more ships. But the Emperor and several of the leading officers of the German navy, notably Great Admiral von Holtzendorf, commander in chief of the German naval forces in the Baltic and the North Sea, are opposed to this policy. For they declare that if Tirpitz's programme for the construction of additional ships were fulfilled there would not be enough officers and sailors to man them, admitting, moreover, that even now the greatest difficulty is experienced in maintaining at the requisite numerical standard the personnel of the navy, owing to the fact that most Germans prefer service on land in the army to service affoat in the navy. Holtzendorf has for some time past been an opponent of von Tirpitz in naval matters, and last month Tirpitz, on ascertaining that Holtzendorf had invited the Foreign Secretary, von Kiderlen-Waechter, to dinner on board his flagship and had won him over to his way of thinking in the matter of the naval programme, complained to the Emperor, and insisted that the admiral should be relieved of his command for having invoked the assistance of ministers of other departments against the Policy of his own chief, the Secretary of the Navy. He pointed out, moreover, that von Holtzendorf had already completed the customary term of his command, and demanded that he should be relieved and a successor appointed, nominsting Admiral von Bachmann. The Kaiser has, however, declined to appoint von Bachmann, has continued Admiral von Holtzendorf in command of Germany's principal fleet, confided to him quite recently the direction of the great naval manœuvres, which he, the Emperor himself, attended, and has capped the whole matter by bestowing on him the Order of the Black Eagle; that is to say, the highest decoration in the gift of the Kaiser, and which is the Prussian equivalent of the English Order of the Garter and of the Austrian and Spanish Golden Fleece.

His Fail Would Promote Peace.

If I lay so much stress on these differences which have arisen between the Emperor and von Tirpitz, it is because of the extremely hostile attitude which the present German Secretary of the Navy has all along manifested toward Great Britain; so much so that it has been frequently asserted in official and political circles in London that the promotion of von Tirpitz to the Chancellorship of the Empire-his crowning ambiand saddling the Teuton taxpayer with fiscal burdens which are rapidly becom-ing intolerable. His downfall would mean a let-up in the building of new ships by Germany, and consequently also by England, and there would be Lord Midleton's Sister to sich a relaxation of the tension now existing between the two countries that the interests of peace would derive in-estimable advantage therefrom.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

WEDDINGS.

DU CRET-WHITNEY.

The marriage of Miss Lavinia Whitney rick), arrives to-morrow in New York on daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Whit ney, jr., and a granddaughter of Daniel D. Whitney, formerly Mayor of Brooklyn to Sheldon A. Du Cret took place last by a small reception at the home of the bride's parents, No. 110 Gates avenue

Arthur F. Du Cret, of No. 169 New York evenue, had as best man his brother, Dr. noses that the hospital which she has in Herbert Du Cret. The ushers were Daniel D. Whitney, 2d, Charles P. Burr, James R. Snedecor and Allen Reynold Bishop.

PITOU-MURRAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew T. Murray, of in a theatre. Richmond Drive, Richmond Hill, Queens Borough, and Eugene Pitou, treasurer of the Municipal Art Society of New York, the enjoyment by liberal laughter and the municipal art society of New York, were married in St. Benedict Joseph's Church, Morris Park, Queens Borough, yesterday. The ceremony was performed discovered, or was willing to learn, by the Rev. Dr. Stuart Chambers, of the Blessed Sacrament Church, Manhattan, assisted by Father Francis Wood.

Miss Marie Murray, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marie Bassabe and Miss Genevieve Manahan, both of Manhattan. The little Misses Lily and Hope Aspell, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. John Aspell, of Manhattan, acted as flower girls. The uehers were Arthur, Matthew T. and William J. Murray, brothers of the bride, and Louis Bhaer, John Brook, and Hannah, just as P. Bassabe, John Tonnelly and Hinman Barrett, of Manhattan.

A reception at the bride's home followed the ceremony at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Pitou will make a trip to the West Indies, and on their return will live at No. 31 West 11th street, Man-

TYSON-ROEBLING.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune. Trenton, N. J., Oct. 16 .- Miss Helen oebling, youngest daughter of Charles G. Roebling, was married to-day to Carroll Sergeant Tyson, jr., of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at the Roebling home at noon by the Rev. Hamilton Schuyler, rector of Trinity Protestant those who fear a war between these two Episcopal Church. Miss Margaret Coulter, of Greensburg, Penn., was the bridesmaid, and Laurence Brengle, of Morristown, was the best man.

The ceremony was witnessed by only a few friends because the bride's family is in mourning on account of the death of Washington A. Roebling, 2d, in the wreck of the Titanic. He was a brother of the

Mr. Tyson is a member of one of Philadelphia's old families. He is a portrait painter and has exhibited here and abroad. He studied at the Fennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. He is a member of the Philadelphia Club, the Racquet Club and the Art Club. In the recent international art exhibition in Rome Mr. Tyson was represented by a number of oil portraits and studies of the New Eng-

KELEHER-FARRAND.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) Detroit, Oct. 16 .- Lieutenant George Cassidy Keleher, of the 26th United States der why it was not done before, because Infantry, now stationed at Fort Wayne, was married here to-night to Miss Rebekah Olive Farrand, daughter of W. R. Farrand, a wealthy plano manufacturer.

The wedding, which was a brilliant military affair, took place in the First Presbyterian Church. Arthur C. F. Keleher, of New York, was best man. He and the ushers were in military uniform. The latter were Lieutenants Harry H. Pritchett, Robert H. Dunlop, Emil H. Rhinehart, Fred T. Jacobs and Robert E. Jones, the latter two of Fort Niagara, N. Y.

LAWRENCE-CARY.

By Telegraph to The Tribune. Baltimore, Oct. 16.-Miss Frances Daniel Cary, daughter of John Brune Cary and the late Mrs. Cary, of Baitlmore, was married this evening to William Hamilton Lawrence, of Manila, P. I., formerly of Minnesota. The ceremony occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Miles Cary, it made last night means anything. Telljr., the bride's brother and sister-in-law, in East Eager street. The Rev. Edwin Barnes Niver, rector of Christ Protestant | Newcastle. Episcopal Church, officiated. A reception for the two families and their intimate friends followed.

Miss Gifford Cochran, of New York, was maid of honor, and James D. Lawrence, The play depends a good deal upon the of Wabasha, Minn., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

VICTOR-MARTIN.

The marriage of Miss Anna Romeyn Variek Martin, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin K. Martin, of Park Hill, Yonkers, and Royal Victor, of New York, took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, in Yonkers. The Rev. Dr. William Paterson Bruce, pastor of the Park Hill Reformed Church, performed the ceremony, Mrs. G. H. Wildman, of Yonkers, attended her sister as matron of honor, and Hugo Victor was his brother's best man.

HARRIMAN'S SON ELECTED Wins Second Place on Yale Class Day Committee.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] New Haven, Oct. 16 .- Senior class officers were elected at Yale to-day at mass meeting. There was keen competition for the class day committee, Paul Achilles, Rochester, winning first place, and Willism Averill Harriman, of New York City. son of the late Edward H. Harriman, securing second. The other members chosen were Alexander McAndrew, of Nordhoff, Cal.; Homer Eugene Sawyer, jr., of New York City, and Joseph Richmond Walker, of Boston, son of the Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives. Ewing Thurston Webb, of Cincinnati, was elected class poet, and Colonel Porter, of Peru, Ind., class orator. James Fenimore Cooper, jr., of Albany, grandson of the novelist, was elected a member of the class Ivy committee. other members were Alexander Humphrey Beard, of New York City, and James Edward Meeker, of Honesdale, Penn.

Frame your plans for to-morrow so Germany. It is he who is chiefly responsible for the feverish construction of more battleships of the Dresdamiahi type regardless of expense.

"LITTLE WOMEN"

Delightful Dramatization of Louisa Alcott's Famous Book.

CAST FITS THE CHARACTERS

A Successful Entertainment, Quite Out of Broadway's Usual Line.

Two or three generations of Americans evening in St. James's Episcopal Church, have been "brought up" on Louisa M. Al-Brooklyn. The ceremony was followed cott's story, "Little Women." The characters in that book are quite as familiar to hundreds of thousands of our people Miss Marion Whitney, a sister of the as are any characters of Dickens or bride, acted as maid of honor. Her other Thackeray, and some of them are even attendants were another sister, Miss Anna more dearly loved. But how many of the Whitney; Miss Adele Du Cret, a cousin readers from the late 60's down to the of the bridegroom; Miss Lillian Halsey present time ever guessed that a stage and Mrs. Robert M. Gilmour. Mr. Du play could be made out of the experiences Cret, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. of Meg and Jo and Beth and Amy? Very few, it is safe to say. And yet here comes a play, and a successful one-a really delightful one-made of the very material which was so livable and lovable and entertaining in the book, but which probably not a baker's dozen of readers have, in nearly half a century, Miss Gertrude M. Murray, daughter of dreamed of as likely to hold an audience

Last night's audience at The Playhouse warm applause. It was an audience that knew the book. Happy the manager who that they who know the book are legion-a profitable public. The audience applauded the characters as they came on. It did not applaud the actors as they came on because, with perhaps two exceptions, the actors were unknown in New York. But the characters were known intimately. There were the 'little women," and there were Mr. and Mrs. March, and Aunt March, and Mr. Lawrence and Laurie, Professor you've always known them, walking, talking, dressing, doing just as you've always known them to talk, walk, dress and do. All of them were like the familiar portraits in your favorite edition, and each actor fitted into his part as if he were made for it and had never played anything else, and never expected to play anything else. They had, all of them, always been the March family and ther friends. But how can a play be made of this? Miss Jessie Bonstelle will have to answer that question. She seems to be the responsible person, for while Miss Marian De Forest, dramatist, dramatized the book, Miss Bonstelle's seems to have been the guiding hand. And hers, so Manager Brady said in a neat little speech, was the directing mind. Miss Bonstelle "staged" the play, selected the actors and gave to the piece the thousand little touches that brought before us all that bundle of material.

It is, of course, this play, as far removed as possible from what is supposed to be the current Broadway taste, which as comfort. managers are believed to interpret with faith and curious results. It is so simple, so untheatrical, that any one may believe easily enough the projector of the entertainment had a good deal of difficulty in persuading anybody to produce it. Now that it is produced, everybody will wonit is successful. Rather odd, too, that this simple, charming presentation of New England life during and immediately following the Civil War time, a play with-tions he may. stelle the credit. Few plays have been as appropriately acted. Of course, there are no smashing "dramatic" moments; there is no "emotional" acting; there is no "Broadway" will be amazed again that a quiet play, a simple play of incident and simple character, can succeed as this play seems bound to succeed if the impression ing the story in this column would be like carrying another cargo of coal to

There are four acts to the play, and all the familiar characters are in them. They say and do the familiar things. And the result is a highly pleasing entertainment. Jo of Miss Marie Pavey. If she is at moments rather more vixenish than Miss Alcott's Jo it is only at moments. Jo had a temper, you remember. Miss Pavey and all the rest catch the spirit of the famous story; all of them look their parts, and, as the saying goes, live them. Every one who has read "Little Women" will enjoy the play and performance, and those who have not read it will find a pleasant evening awaiting them at The Playhouse, if they do not demand a "punch" in every play they see, and if they can survive an occasion without villains, intrigues and "comic relief."

				A. W.
1 100 100 100 100		"LITTLE
Mr. March. Mrs. March. Mrs. March. Meg Jo Beth Amy Aunt March. Mr. Lawren Laurie Professor Bi John Brook	œ		Ma. Glady Bev. Mrs. L. Carson I Howard ICarl	Berkeley lee Brady rie Pavey s Hulette srly West A. Eberle Davenport Estabrook Sauerman ('romwell
STATES OF THE STATES

CORT THEATRE TO OPEN.

The Cort Theatre will be opened by John Cort on Monday night, November 25. with J. Hartley Manners's new Irish not shown in the papers dismissing the comedy, "Peg o' My Heart," in which suit. Miss Laurette Taylor will appear as a star for the first time, under Oliver Morosco's CAPTAIN BARTLETT ON OUTING. management. In designing the Cort Theatre E. B.

Corey was inspired by the Petit Trianon, in the gardens of Versailles. the style of Louis XVI.

The proscenium arch will be in perforwhich will be lighted up during performances. The sounding board will be decorated with a painting which represents a minuet gardens of Versailles. The lobby will be mainly Pavanozza marble, with Marie Antoinette panels of organ consists of three sections, one linet on Saturday in the orchestra pit and one above each of the upper tier of boxes, giving an ef-fective musical display representing forty instruments.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

John Cort announced yesterday that he had arranged for the New York premiere of Pixley and Luders's new romantic operetta, "The Gypsy," to take place at the Park Theatre, on Monday night, November 11.

Edwin Milton Royle's "The Unwritten Law," will be produced by H. H. Frazee, in New York, some time next January.

Robert Hilliard's new play, "The Argyle Case," written by Harriet Ford and Harvey J. O'Higgin, with the co-opera-tion of William J. Burns, the detective, will have its first presentation on any stage to-night at the Apollo Theatre, Atlantic City.

"The Whip" has been postponed for a week at the Manhattan Opera House, in order that "Bought and Paid For" may have a final engagement in New York before starting upon a long tour of the principal cities.

William Morris announces the New York premiere on October 28, at the 39th Street Theatre, of Cosmo Hamilton's fouract play, "The Blindness of Virtue," from the Little Theatre, London, presented by the original cast of players, including A. Holmes-Gore, Doris Lytton, Basil Hallam, Polly Emery, Lena Halliday, A. Hamilton-Gibbs, Madge Murray and Dorothy Rundell.

"Rube" Marquard and Blossom Seeley have joined hands as a vaudeville team stein's Victoria Theatre the week commencing Monday, October 21.

The Gwent Male Glee Singers, a famous Welsh choir, sail from Liverpool on the Cedric to-day. They will make their first American appearance at Carnegie Hall on Monday evening, October 28, together with Cristeta Goni, the juvenile Spanish violin virtuoso.

Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre next week will present B. A. Rolfe's preten-flous extravaganza, "Puss in Boots," a ondensation of the original offered some cars ago at the Hippodrome in London The book has been Americanized by Frank Kennedy, while new lyrics and music have been supplied by William J. McKenna and B. A. Rolfe.

Contracts were signed yesterday whereby Wilton Lackage will appear under the management of H. H. Frazee for the next two years.

Arrangements have just been completed for the production of "Milestones," the current play at the Liberty Theatre, at the Royal Theatre, in Berlin. Contracts have been arranged with Count von Huelson, the manager of the Royal Theitre. Early in the year the play will also be presented at the Hofburg Theatre, in Vienna, and on Monday, December 'Milestones' will have its first Continental production at the Magyar Szinhas, in Budapest. On this occasion it will be known as "Mersold-Jilzo."

The Actors' Fund headquarters, new in simple, friendly, wholesome Concord group in their habits as they lived. But the Gayety Theatre Building, will be Miss De Forest must be credited with the moved about November 1 to its new making of a better "dramatization" than location selected by Daniel Frohman. usually falls to books which are selected its president, in the new Long Acre for stage plays. It is clear that these Building, 42d street and Broadway, where two women loved the book, as thousands of others have loved it and remembered board of trustees, commodicus reception it. They have made a delightful play out of what must have seemed to many ters for the clerical force, the expense of theatrical persons a most unpromising which is no greater than the cost of their present quarters. The place is especially desirable on account of its central location and its greater accessibility as well

> The fourth annual Christmas festival of the MacDowell Club will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria on the birthday of Edward MacDowell, December 18, 1912.

ADMIRAL CARVALHO GUEST

Exposition President Gives Dinner for

Brazilian Visitor. Admiral José Carlos Carvalho, of the out "a punch," should be seen in a Brazilian navy, who was a guest of the theatre where the greatest success has President aboard the Mayflower at the rebeen a play which was "punched" all view of the fleet, was the guest of hono over the stage. But from the compari- at a dinner given last night at the Hotel son any one is free to draw what deduc- Astor by Colonel D. C. Collier, president of the Panama-California Exposition, No play has been more appropriately which will be held at San Diego at the "staged." Mr. Brady gives Miss Bon- same time as the San Francisco exposition. Mr. Collier is also president of the San Diego Aero Club. Admiral Carvalho is president of the tero Club of Brazil and an ardent be-"grip," no "thrill"; there is nothing to liever in the future of the hydrogeroplan stir cheers from the spectators. And so for naval use. So far there are only about five licensed aviators in Brazil, with two machines amon; them, but the admiral is confident that his country will produce many more followers of Santos Dumont, pioneer of the heavier-than-air machine, who is a native of Brazil.

M. Y. Ferreira, Brazilian Consul Gen. eral at New York, and Dr. Eugenic Dahne, Commissioner General of the Brazilian Department of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce, were among the twenty other

GORE MEETS BLIND POET

Would Like a Monopoly of the Affliction, Senator Says. P. Gore, the blind Senator from Oklahoma, shook hands yesterday at Democratic Nafional Headquarters with Edward Doyle, a blind poet and newspaper man, who had been introduced by Senator O'Gorman.

"I don't believe in monopoly as a general thing," said Senator Gore when he heard that Mr. Doyle could not see, "but I wish I were the Irishman who had a monopoly of this affliction."

The two men chatted a while, and Mr. Doyle promised to recite some of his poems for Senator Gore at an early oc-has settled with the Southern Railway Company the suit for $50,000 damages which she brought against the company in 1902 for injuries in an accident. The amount which she has now settled for is Price.

NORDICA'S SUIT SETTLED. Mme. Lillian Nordica, the prima donna,

Lake George, N. Y., Oct. 16.-Captain

A. R. Bartlett, who was in command of the Roosevelt on the Peary expedition to The building will seat one thousand the North Pole, arrived to-day by autopersons, and its interior will be treated in mobile from Lake Placid at the Fort William Henry Hotel, on the way to Boston. Other members of the party were ated plaster work, treated with art glass, Mr. and Mrs. William Lyman Underwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Cushing.

during the period of Louis XVI in the of this city that in the face of a most important national election the registration for the first two days is below that of four years ago. See to it that you register to-morrow. Your vote is needed. To-morrow is your third chance. Do not wait for the fourth and

It is a reflection on the citizenship

FATHER KNICKERBOCKER-Let me see! What was I thinking about when this blame

TO RESUME

OBITUARY.

nonsense started, anyway?

MAX SPICKER. Max Spicker, for many years a well known figure in New York's musical world and since 1898 director of music at Temple Emanu-El, died on Monday night of apoplexy at his home, No. 1361 Madison avenue. He had been ill all summer, but, though urged to do so, had refused to take a vacation. He was born in Königsburg, Prussia, on August 16, 1868, and for five years was a Leipsic Conservatory, where he studied under Wenzel, Richter, Reinecke and Oscar Paul. ductor in Heidelberg, and afterward di- October 19, 1888. Her husband, a daughter, rected at Cologne, Ghent, Alx-le-Chapelle three sisters and a brother survive.

and Potsdam. Mr. Spicker came to New York in 1882. | INFIRMARY FUND GROWS ductor of the Beethoven Minnerchor. From 1888 to 1896 he was director of the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music, and for part of that time assistant conductor under Anton Seidl at the Brighton Beach

From 1895 to 1897 he was teacher of theory at the National Conservatory. About 1892 he became attached to the music publishing house of Schirmer as compiler, and for the last ten years he had been the house's reader and editor. The funeral will take place in Temple Emanu-El this afternoon at 4 o'clock

FLMER E. RUNYON. [By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 16.-Elmer E. Runyon, a member of the firm of A. M. Runyon & Son, undertakers, died from heart trouble to-day at his home here. He was born in this city and always lived here. He was a member of Salaam Temple, of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine; Anchor Lodge, 149, F. and A. M.; Jerusalem Lodge, 24, R. A. M.; Plainfield Lodge of Ells, Columbia Lodge, 68. A. O. U. W., and Unity Lodge, 102, K. of P. His father, A. M. Runyon, sur-

LEVI G. BLISS.

Bliss, former member of Councils and at cupation of its new building. one time a prominent raffroad man in this state, died at his home here to-day after a long illness, at the age of seventythree years.

Mr. Bliss was born in Seymour, Conn., and had been a resident of New Jersey since 1868. For a number of years he was connected with the old Raritan & Delaware Bay Railroad, at Atsion, in the capacity of agent, and later at Manchester, now Lakehurst. He held the place of chief clerk in the superintendent's office at East Long Branch and later became division agent of the road. For a number of years Mr. Bliss served as a councilman and in the Board of Health. He was a well-known member of the Masonic fraternity, being a past grand high priest of the New Jersey Grand Chapter. He was long active in he Democratic party. He leaves a wife and two children,

Mrs. Harry Bliss and Mrs. T. Fraser

DR. ALBERT N. HUSTED. [By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Albany, Oct. 16.-Dr. Albert N. Husted, one of the leading educators of the state, died at his home in this city this morn ing. Dr. Husted had been connected with the Albany State Normal College for fifty-seven years, from which institution he was graduated in 1855. He had held the chair of professor of mathematics in the State Normal College since 1869, Hamilton College conferred the degree of A. M. upon him in 1898, and thirty years later Illinois Wesleyan University gave him the degree of Ph. D. Dr. Husted was a Civil War veteran, having served first as a lieutenant and later as a captain in the "Ellsworth Avengers."

OBITUARY NOTES. DR. HENRY CHAVANNE died yesterday at his home in Salem, N. J., from a complication of diseases. He was secretary and treasurer of the Salem County

Medical Society, and was prominent in G. A. R. circles

HORACE INMAN, seventy-three years old, known as the father of the paper box industry, and president of the Inman Manufacturing Company, of Amsterdam, N. Y., died yesterday at that place. He was known in manufacturing centres throughout the world.

MRS. MARY W. YOUNG, wife of Willis H. Young, vice-president of the Queens County Bond and Mortgage Company, died at her home in Hemppupil of S. Köhler, afterward going to the stead after a long illness yesterday. She was one of the best known church and charitable workers in that vicinity. Mrs. Young was born in Babylon, Long Island, He began his career as theatrical con- January 25, 1847, and was married on Staten Islanders Respond Generously to Call for Help.

The big clocks in various parts of Staten Island showed last night that $85,000 of the $100,000 fund for the S. R. Smith Infirmary at New Brighton had been raised.

The committee in charge of the work started out with the idea of raising the money within twenty-three days, but only eight days have elapsed since the campaign started, and it is considered an assured thing that the $100,000 will be raised long before the expiration of the time set.

J. P. Morgan promised the committee that if it raised $97,500 he would make up the balance. The committee believes that it will be able to call upon Mr. Morgan within the next few days. The money is to be used to improve the infirmary and to add automobile ambulance service.

GEOGRAPHERS TO CELEBRATE. The American Geographical Society will hold a reception at its building, Broadway at 156th street, this evening, in honor of the European members of the transcontinental excursion of 1912, celebrating the sixtleth anniversary of Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 16.—Levt G. the founding of the society and the oc-

AUTOISTS AT LAKE GEORGE.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Lake George, N. Y., Oct. 16 .- The following New Yorkers arrived to-day at the Fort William Henry Hotel by automobile: A. C. and N. W. Landreth, the Misses A. L. and Mary L. Van Schooven Miss Elizabeth M. Mann, Mrs. A. E. Stetson, Mrs. E. W. Stimpson, Miss Sophia Curtis, Miss S. M. Hesse, Robert Maclay Wentworth and C. Bacon,

WHAT IS GOING ON TO-DAY. Free admission to the American Museum o Natural History and the Metropolitan Mu-seum of Art.

Electrical show, New Grand Central Palace. Addresses on "The Political Situation from the Democratic Standibint," being students of Adelput College, college, 11 a. m.

Adelphi College, college, 11 a. m. Enterteinment for four hundred delegates from foreign countries to the fifth international congress of Chambers of Commerce Industrial Association.

Political symposium of the National League for the Civic Education of Women, No. 4 West 47th street, 4 p. m.

"Frogressive Night" at political meeting, Public School 63, 4th street, just cast of First avenue evening.

Progressive Night" at political meeting, Poblic School 68, 4th street, just east of First avenue, evening.

Address by Job E. Hedges at Republican mass meeting, Carnegic Eath, evening.

Public lectures of the Board of Education, 8:18 p. m.: Public School 27, 42d street, east of Third avenue. "The Story of the Hudson," Charles S. Bullock: Public School 33, No. 418 West 28th street. "A Trip Through Mexico," Francis P. Bent; Public School 33, No. 418 West 28th street. "A Trip Through Mexico," Francis P. Bent; Public School 68, 156th street and S. Nicholas avenue, "Rome, Old and New," Frank A. Gallippi Public School 59, No. 228 East 57th street, "Literary and Historic Shrines of Hoston and Vicinity," Issae F. Smith; Public School 62. Heater and Essex streets, "Romances of Greece," Dr. Charles F. Horne; Public School 109, 135th street, west of Fifth avenue, "The Northwest and Pacific Coast," Dr. George Donaldson; Public School 119, 133d street, east of Eighth avenue, "Early Efforts in Colonization," Dr. Anna P. MacVay; Public School 165, 168th street, west of Amsterdam avenue, "Slegfried," Mrs. Mary Hill Brown; Institution for the Deart, "Expyt and the Nile," Dr. Peter MacQueen; Laber Temple Hall, 14th street and Second avenue, "The Domestic Relations Court," Raiph K. Jacobs; Library, No. 112 East 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private Rooms, Private Ambulances, "The Highlands and Islands of Section 100, 125th street, "The Highlands and Islands of Section 100, 125th street, No. 238 West 125th street and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Private and No. 218 Earl 106th street, "Changlas," Changlas, Ch

China," Frank W. Mottley; St. Luke's Hall, Hudson street, south of Christopher, "Music in the Home," Peter W. Dykema.

MARRIED.

WARK-SANDS-At No. 28 East 75th st., October 16, 1912, by the Rev. Percy Stick-ney Grant, Ruth, daughter of Mrs. Philips J. Sands, to Charles Wark, Esq.

Notices of marriages and deaths must be ecompanied by full name and address.

Richardson, Frank S. Runyon, Elmer E. Barringer, Catherine. Brower, William W.

Dey, Anthony Sellars, Hugh. Young, Mary W. Joline, Adrian H. In Memoriam.

BARRINGER—On October 15, Catherine Bare-ringer, aged 81 years. Funeral services at the Methodist Episcopal Church Home, 924 st. and Amsterdam ave., Friday morning, 9:45. Members of Perry Street Methodist Episcopal Church invited BROWER-On Tuesday, Oct. 15, at his residence, No. 318 West 90th st., William Wallace Brower. Relatives and friends received on Thursday, between 4 and 6 o'clock. Services and interment at South Gardner, Me., at convenience of family.

Me., at convenience of family.

DEY—On Friday, October II, 1912, at the home of his sister, No. 28 West 88th st., Anthony Dey, in the 84th year of his age, eldest son of the late Rev. Richard Varick Dey and Lavinia Agnes Scott, grandson of the late Anthony Dey, of this city, and also of Colenei Joseph Warren Scott, of New Brunswick, N. J. Funeral service at the Marble Collegiate Church, Fifth avenue and 29th st., on Thursday, October 17, at 10 o'clock, Kentucky and New Orleans papers please copy.

JOLINE—At his late residence, No. 1 West 72d st., on the 15th day of October, 1912, Adrian Hoffman Joline, husband of Mary E. Joline, in the 63d year of his age. Services will be held at All Angels' Church, West End ave. and Sist st. New York City, New York, Friday, the 18th day of October, 1812, at 9:30 a. m.

MEMBERS OF THE PRINCETON CLUB of New York wishing to attend the funeral of Adrian Hoffman Joline, class of Seventy, a former President of the Club, will meet at All Angels' Church, Sist et. and West End ave, at 9:15 on Friday morning, October 18, 1912.

WALTER C. BOOTH, Secretary.

RICHARDSON-Suddenly, October 15, at North Adams, Mass, Frank Stone, husband of Alice Rudderow and son of the late Amass W, and Esther Cone Richardson, in his 56th year. Services private.

RUNYON—At Plainfield, N. J., on Wednesday, October 16, 1912, Elmer Elisworth, believed husband of Jennie V. Runyon, and son of Alexander M. and the late Elizabeth Willits Runyon, in his 52d year. Services at his late residence, No. 608 Madison ava., Plainfield, N. J., on Friday evening, October 18, at 8 o'clock.

SELLARS—Hugh Sellars, aged 28. Services, The Funeral Church, No. 241 West 23d st., (Frank Campbell Building), Thursday, 2 o'clock, Automobile cortes.

YOUNG—On Wednesday, October 16, 1918, at her home. No. 95 Fulton ave., Hemp-stead, Lorg Island, Mary W. Young, wifs, of Willis H. Young. Funeral services at her late residence Friday afternoon, at 3:15. Train leaves Flatbush Station, Brooklyn, 1:57; Fennsylvania Station, New York, 2 p. m. Interment private.

IN MEMORIAM. ANTHONY DEY.

IN MEMORIAM.

ANTHONY DEY.

New York October 14, 1912.

At this, the first meeting of the Board of Managers held since the death of our esteemed associate and Second Vice-President, Mr. Anthony Dey, which occurred on the lith day of October, 1912, the Managers desire to place on record the following Minute:

Mr. Dey was elected a manager in the year 1894, and served continuously as such until the day of his death, filling the offices of Chairman of the Executive Committee and of the Second Vice-President.

In the death of Mr. Dey the "Home for Incurables" have lost a warm and sympathetic friend; one whose heart and hand never their in responding to the call of the sick and needy; he ever took pleasure in relieving their wants and adding to their comfort.

Those of us who were so closely connected with him in this work must ever remember his courteous character and unassuming manner, so peculiarly his own, and his never falling attention to duty. We shall miss him sorely.

Resolved, That the Board of Managers tender to his family this expression of their heartfelt sympathy, and that a copy of this Minute, suitably engrossed, be presented to the family and published in the paper.

IRVING PARIS.

W. EMLEN ROOSEVELT, ISRAEL C. JONES, M. D., Committee.